Fresident Johnson to the Working Men. The committee appointed by the National Workingmen's Convention, recently in session Baltimore, to wait upon the President, had an interview with him at 3 P. M., on Saturday.

To their address he replied as follows: I am very much obliged to you and the committee for bringing before me the proceedings of your convention. I am gratified that you have thus shown your respect and deference to me. I shall not attempt to make a speech, but merely make a few remarks in a conversational manner. I simply refer you to my past action, which is recorded, for an exposition of what my principles and views are now on this

In the matter of convict labor I am somewhat familier. I am against it, as not only tending to degrade labor, but making an unjust discrimination. I might claim a priority in the matter of my interest in convict labor to your selves. My experience since 1844 confirms me in my convictions on this subject. I am opnosed to the present system on account of its degrading and discriminating influences.

I like to see labor elevated, for everything in this country depends on labor. I think labor ought to us slevated and respected. In fact, the laboring men ought not alone to participate in the Government, but, in my opinion, ought to control it, because all rests upon them in this country. This is no new position for me. I am from early life an advocate of the elevation of labor.

In reference to the disposal of the public lands I may again refer you to my past course. In 1846, I introduced a bill into the House of Representatives to grant homesteads to actual settlers, and followed it up till 1851, when it finally passed the House of Representatives. Notwithstanding it was subjected to the taunts and jeers of many in that House at the time, it finally passed the House. It went to the Senate and was lost. Afterward I was transferred from the House to the Senate, and brought the subject up again there. It was finally passed, as you know, and vetoed by Mr. Buchanan. My whole bistory shows that I am against monopoly in the public lands. It leads to the accumulation of the land in the hands of a few, who sell it out again at high prices to the settlers. It would in fact increase the revenues of the Government if every man had a domicile on these lands for his wife and children.

Just in that connection I would say that this is a very important time now to speak of independence. There are people, a large mass, in this country at present, who require emancipation. There are many bonds that require to be broken in this country yet. You cannot be I have given a recent evidence in my vetees of the Montena bills. I have always been in favor of all laws that tended to advance the interests and alleviate the condition of the laboring man. I am glad to see the country working itself up to an ame lioration of his condition. The laboring men ought to some forward and assert and maintain their position. The working men constitute the true pristocracy of this country, and it is they and they alone that should constitute the aristocracy. I like to see an aristocracy, but it is an aristocracy of labor. I am for shortening the hours of labor to the least number of hours possible, consistent with the interests of all, and you may rely on my influence when the opportunity arrives for me to east it in your behalf. You have my sympahies and my best feelings in your cause, and I hope you will accomplish the objects you have in view. May gots in the past must determine my posicion with reference to your interests in the luttre. I thank you, gentlemen, for the emplicent you have paid me in coming here.

L PRAYER.—The following beautiful prayer for the Captive who now pines within the walls of Fort Monroe, and for the success of the Philadelogia Convention, was made by the Res. W. E. Broaddus, D. D., at the session of the Albemarle Baptist Association, held in Charlottesville last week.

"C thou God of Nations! thou God of the whole earth! look down upon our distinguished islow citizen, recently the Chief Magistrate of the political Confederation now no longer sage apply to sisting. In the mysterious workings of thy Providence, thou hast permitted thy servant to be confined in a loathsome prison, shut out from all communion with the thousands that love him. We would bow in humble submission to thy will; but, oh Lord! as thy servant suffers in our stead, who deserve whatever penalties he deserves, we plead with Thee in behalf of the servant, that he may soon be reeased from prison, and permitted to breathe the air of personal liberty. But if he must suffer still looger, grant him grace, that he may bear with Christian patience and fortitude, the bliter sufferings of his present condition. And, G Lord! bless our country, our suffer-Strengthen the hands and heart of every man a that convention, who is honestly laboring to tring order out of the confusion that reigns the lene. Rebuke, O Lord, the spirit of faction which would work mischief among h vac let it not be long before we shall enjoy avil 20-remment, and harmony prevail throughout the country. Amen!"

PREVENTIVE AND CURATIVE. The cause of Cholera is always found in a deranged state of the digestive fluids, particularly the bile which has been put in disorder by climatic or other atmospheric causes. The biliary ducts are thus prevented from fulfilling their functions, and consequently the whole circulation is thrown into disorder. The more one's system is thus deranged by unhealthy eatables. or irregular habits of living, the more easy will we become the victims of ASIATIC CHOL-Asiatic Cholera is a terrible complaint; it takes its victims with a rapidity unknown to any other malady; the slightest neglect against sanitary rules is almost surely punished with death.

Yet Cholera is curable, like other diseases, and in this Elixir we possess a remedy which is a perfect safeguard against it. Experience in thousands of cases, particularly in 1850, in Germany, and in the Cholera season just past in Paris, Constantinople and other cities of Europe, has proved the use of PROF. WUNDRUM'S CHOLERA ELIXIR the surest preventive against the malady.
